

Sue Harriff – “Indiana Conference on New Political Goals” – Vol. II No. 1 pg. 13, January 10, 1969

New Politics Party is sponsoring a conference on new political goals. With invited guests of national prominence, including Harvey Wheeler of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, Rev. John Fry of the Chicago Blackstone Rangers, Staff members from Ramparts magazine, and Marcus Raskin, a founder of NPP, the tentative conference schedule includes Workshops on (1) police-community relations, (2) Electoral process reform, (3) New university goals, and (4) Organizing the powerless.

Stressing that the conference is open to all, Harvey Lord, NPP State Chairman, emphasized that all groups in the state interested in the "new politics" will be invited, including reform Democrats, Those for McCarthy, Kennedy supporters, NPP, Black Panthers, SDS, and the variety of 'End the War Committees' existing on Indiana campuses.

The conference will be held at the Epworth Forest Ledges on Lake Webster, 1/2 mile north of North Webster, Ind. Taking place on Saturday and Sunday, February 8th and 9th, the conference will cost $10 to all participants. Reservations must be made in advance with the appropriate district chairman.

Those interested in the Muncie/Ball State area should contact the 10th district chairman, Char McCain at 288-0380. Due to the limited attendance (appro. 100) reservations should be made at least two weeks in advance.
